“ Charles was my late husband's brother and they talked on the phone, sometimes daily, for years. Charles went out of his way to help his customers, various neighbors and family members during his air conditioning and refrigeration career. He was his mother's caregiver during her later years and his unfailing patience and care was an inspiration to each of us. His Christian testimony, his faithfulness to his church (Rock Creek Baptist), and his love of family and friends will be especially remembered and cherished.
