“ Clara Schrader was my grandmother. She was not your everyday, average, cookie baking type of grandmother. There wasn't anything ordinary about her. She was extraordinary! She was the strongest woman I have ever known. There was so much I loved about her. I Loved that at 80 years old she still cut her own grass while wearing her bathing suit. I love how much She enjoyed snuggling up in her bed watching a good movie, I loved how She would call me late at night and talk for hours about nothing but everything. I loved how She didn't act her age. I loved going to her house...& I was there A lot!! I loved that She acted so tuff but was so gentle on the inside. I loved that she would go to the tanning with me when she was in her 70's. I loved how young she was at heart no matter how old she really was. I loved listening to her tell stories about her life as a child and a teenager. I loved how when she thought no one was looking she would givr my Pa (her husband) a special smile, wink, or pat on the butt. I loved everything about her. She was definitely one of a kind
I am so thankful that God let us have so many wonderful years with her. I'm even more thankful that God chose her to be my Nanny. 💕
