“ I loved working with C.E. He was a unique man who was a little difficult to get to know but once you did, it always interesting to be around him. He was full of wisdom and shared it freely. RIP

CE -old goat as he use to call himself with a chuckle- was an awesome mentor to me early in my career. A quirky sense of humor, deep caring for his people, (nothing he wouldn't do for ya) and oh how he loved his beloved wife Joan. I know he's missed her everyday since her passing. He's happy and with her now. Will never forget ya. God Bless.

CE, I just learned of your death. So sorry I missed your graveside service. You were a very interesting person and a best friend during our time together at Bell and after our retirement. The last few years you were anxious to join Joan and dance with her again. I pray that ya'll are dancing.
