“ This is a painting my dad's coworkers had painted when he retired in 2001. It's my most favorite thing of his. It shows exactly how much he was loved and what a great man he was.

If you knew him, you knew he was always willing to do anything for anyone. You also knew he was the first to pull a prank and always kept everyone laughing. He was my hero, my inspiration to do my best, the reason I'm the man I am now. He was my daddy and I miss him greatly and will always have my love. He took a piece of my heart with him that will never be filled until the day I see him again.

He was well known in the ham radio community and respected by all the hams that I've grown to know over the years. In the ham radio community, we would say KD4EM has went silent key. You will be missed by everyone.

I love you daddy
