“ I have known Bro. Morgan and Jean since my first husband, and I moved to Pleasant Grove in 1973. It was Bro. Morgan who came by our house on visitation on Wednesday afternoon. We joined Cottage Hills Baptist that night. Jean became our faithful Sunday school teacher. Together they became prayer warriors for this young couple. Since we had no family in the area, we celebrated birthdays and anniversaries. It was this pastor, wife and church family that prayed me through UAB graduate school. When our first son Joseph was born in 1976, Jean became MeMaw to him. She loved her grandchildren and extended that love to him. We moved back to Andalusia in 1977. Many phone calls were made to seek their advice and prayers. As we made trips to the cardiologist twice a year, we would stay with the Morgans. They were like our second parents. When our second son was born, we named him John Morgan in honor of this couple. It was during this time that Layron asked Bro. Morgan to do his funeral when the time came. It came in 1993. And to keep his promise Bro. Morgan and Jean came for the funeral. When I became a widow at a young age, they were there to support me. When Bro. Morgan went to be with the Lord, I wasn't able to come to the funeral because I was tending to my Mother. Now that we were both widows Jean and I had one more thing in common. More frequent phone calls and even a visit or two. The last visit was made July 19, 2023, when John Morgan and I visited for just a day. Jean (Memaw) was just elated that we came. She showed us all around Pleasant Grove. We talked about memories that we shared. I think she especially enjoyed visiting with John Morgan.

I have decided to cherish these memories and others that I have in my heart instead of making the trip for the funeral.

I will miss the phone calls, visits, and prayers going up for me and my family.

Well done thou good and faithful servant. See you soon.
