“ My heartfelt sympathy to Chad, Shelby, Bill and Joy. Jennifer loved each of you so much. We were just talking the other day about how proud she is of Chad and Shelby.

I met Jennifer back in our college days. I was a very backward country girl thrown in to the big city of Atlanta. Jennifer and her family opened their home up to me on many occasions. They got me through a big case of homesickness.

As life goes we lost touch for some time but reconnected a couple years ago. Jennifer went through some rough times but came out on top. I was so proud of her.

Jennifer has great faith in the Lord and I know she is in a much better place.

My thoughts and prayers are with you all.

I love you Jennifer.

“ My heartfelt sympathy to Chad, Shelby, Bill and Joy. My thought and prayers are with you. I've known Jennifer since our college days in Atlanta. I was a lost country girl thrown in to that big city. Jennifer and her parents made me so welcome at their home many times. As life goes we grew apart but reconnected several years ago. She had been through some tough times but was a very strong lady and pulled through. I was so proud of her. She may have been a wee bit on the stubborn side but had a heart of gold. Jennifer accepted God as her savior and I know she is in a much better place even though it is so hard to accept. I love you Jennifer.

“ Jennifer was the closest thing I had to a sister. She was my best friend for many years and we were pregnant with our daughters at the same time. I've known Chad since he was and diapers and Shelby since she was born and think of them as my own children. Jennifer you left too soon!! It's just not right sis. However I want you to know that I will always be here for Chad and Shelby. I know you knew how much I love them. You were also one of the few that knew how sure my love was and how tough my love was as well. Finally, my sister and best friend, you can rest in peace as you deserve. You will forever live in my heart. You will be missed.
I Love You ~
