“ John was the best story teller. He never left out any details. Always interesting. From artifact hunting to coin collecting to adventures in the field while engineering.

“ I can't help but smile when I see a picture of John. He had such a friendly way about him. He never met a stranger. I can still hear his laugh and him telling stories about finding arrowheads or fishing or working at the "phone factory". He was my friend for almost 50 years and we will all miss him. May God comfort you Mary and hold you in the palm of his hand in these days of sadness.
