“ March 24, 2009 Leroy Bush was one of my dearest lifelong friends. To all who knew him, he was a true friend, a model husband & father, a devout Christian by example and faith, a dedicated and learned building trades craftsman, a talented musician, singer, dancer, and square-dance caller. He loved everyone he met without regard to age, gender, race, or faith. If all men were like Brother Leroy there would be peace on earth and love in everyone's heart. He was one of the wisest men I've ever met. I will miss him like a brother. Linda remembers him as one of the nicest people in Bessemer Ward when she moved there. The family he and his beloved puggie created is as dear to me as my own. I grieve his passing and mourn for his family. We love you Leroy. RV & LV
