“ I recently found out about Kinsey's passing and am saddened that she is no longer with us. I have not spoken with her since she left my class to attend high school, but have thought about her often. It seems like she was just here. She gave me a small strip of tattoos that matched ones she put on herself with water and told me to always keep them to remember her. I still have them even though I would never forget her. She was a beautiful girl, loving, and with a smile that could light up the room. I am blessed to know her and will see her in Heaven when I pass because I know she is an angel since she was one while on this earth. May God keep her family in His constant care and know you are not alone in missing her. Love to you all, Mrs. Abernathy
