“ What gives me peace at a time like this, Is that there is a Blessed Hope that we will be reunited with our loved ones. It's not "Goodbye", it's "I'll see you later over yonder with our beloved Savior!"

Keeping you in my thoughts and prayers for our Heavenly Father to comfort you in His loving arms and give you His strength Laura, Brian and family. With much love, Aunt Linda

“ So very sorry to read of the tragic losses of your precious children. Please accept my heartfelt condolences. Words cannot begin to express the sadness you are feeling. It seems so unfair that death should have the power to take away people we love. And when it happens, the thought of never again being able to talk to, laugh with, or hold your loved one can be most difficult to bear. But please know that your Heavenly Father understands your pain. He, too, felt pain when his only begotten son died. And just like he raised his son, Jesus Christ, to life, he promised to do the same for our dead loved ones. Hosea 13:14 says: "From the power of the Grave I will redeem them; From death I will recover them. Where are your stings, O Death? Where is your destructiveness, O Grave? Compassion will be concealed from my eyes." I hope that you find measure of comfort in God's promise to end all suffering and death soon and forever as Revelation 21:4 promises: "And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes and death will be no more, + neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away." Please see jw.org
