“ i had some good times with Rachael many years ago...we took some painting classes together. loved every minute of it. through the years, we would talk occasionally and it was always easy conversation with Rachael. you could just be yourself with her and she was the same. i was soo shocked to hear of her passing! i knew she had many health issues, and we talked of them each time we did talk to one another. had just chatted with her on FB a couple weeks before this. we just never know when it's our last time to speak with our friends. she is perfectly well now and no more health issues! she is with the Lord! i loved Rachael and i will miss talking to her.
