“ Lauren and Chris, my heart goes out to you for the loss of your dad. He and I were more like brothers than cousins, and I have many fond memories of the times we spent together. I, like you and your mother, are the curator of the museum of his life. He not only lives on in heaven, he lives on through us every time we tell his story. Memories are a gift that God has given to each of us. They are treasures that know no time; have value that knows no price; and so precious they cannot be stolen from us by other people. A word, a song, a smile, a smell or a photograph; our memories have many triggers. Whenever that poignant gift surfaces, I know you'll tell the story of David, as will I. Our world is a better place because David was part of our lives. Now as you lay your dad to rest in the arms of God, I pray you too discover the peace your dad found in Christ. We do not mourn as those who have no hope. For God was in Christ Jesus reconciling the world to Himself. He's not counting our sins against us!!! He loves us, He's not mad at us, and He will never leave us or forsake us (2Cor 5:19). With sympathy and love, Victor+

“ David and I grew up together. Our fathers were brothers. We had great times as kids. I remember the time that he tried to get me to climb the big tower across the street from where he grew as a boy.He kept telling me, you can do, you can do it. Well, unfortuantely I never did make it to the top. Not because David didn,t try to help me along. We were close as adults and had many wonderful times with our spouses and children. David, just know that you are on top of the most important tower of all now. God has taken your hand and helped you along the way. I'll miss you, your wonderful smile, and laugh. I love you, Nora Jane. Chris and Lauren, May God Bless you both in all your endeavors. Your Dad is so proud of you.
