“ Tiffany I really miss you. I wish that the last time I seen you I would have hugged you a few more times and told you I was really proud of you. You are truly being missed by many. I hate that you are gone I still cry to this day. I am going to make a picture Collage with the few pictures that I have of you. Tiffany was a genuinely sweet caring woman. Tiffany always spoke of her parents and children. Tiffany loved them very much, she told me many many funny stories with her family. The last time I seen her she looked very very good she was full of smiles and she regained the twinkle back into her eyes. I want to tell the family that you all are in my prayers. My children pray for her little ones as well. I know the world lost a beautiful loving friend, mother, and daughter. I will not speak of the evil Haynes and sincless reasoning surrounding her departure from us but I knew in my heart that the person that they arrested was it from day one. I knew his behavior and wasn't pleasant. I knew that Tiffany would've just walked out. #1 she loved her children she wouldn't have went alone. #2 she was proud of her car. #3 She would have never went that long without any contact with anyone. Tiffany watch over us girl and I'll see you again when I get called home. You will never be forgotten and will forever stay in my heart.

“ I went to class with Tiffany in 2013/14 or 15. I remember her being very sweet and a little quiet like me. We spoke off and on throughout the years after class was over, mainly when I would see her out in public but we are also friends on Facebook. She always had a smile on her face when we spoke. I was so saddened to hear of this horrible event and I pray for both her children and her family that they find comfort and peace in the Lord. As well swift justice for those responsible for ending a precious life.

“ Don't even know where to begin with all the memories we have made over 30 years. Riding four wheelers well more so flying off of them lol, playing house in mawmaws basement, vacations, holidays, spending the night at one another's house, her being in my wedding, being there when the girls were born, and so so many more. All these memories I will cherish forever. Thankful I have these memories to share with the babies so they know just how great their mother was.
