“ Vanessa, was one of my first ever best friends. Like sisters, as little girls, we spent time with our families at the beach. My first memories with Vanessa are some of the best of my childhood; collecting shells, swinging on a tree swing, picnics and sleepovers. Later as teens we were more distant but enjoyed being together when we could. As life would have it, adulthood brought more distance as we learned to navigate the ins and outs of surviving this world, but I never forgot my first bestie. Vanessa, I love you, my sister, and I will never forget my time with you. You were beautiful. I hope to get to hug your neck again someday, but till then, I will be lifting up your children and family to the Almighty One. I love you forever,
Your bestie, Dica
