“ Lynn and Danny, We were deeply saddened to receive the phone call that Chad was gone. He will always be part of our treasured memories from the NCHS volleyball experience. Chad was so thoughtful that he would always wear something visible so his Mom could see him from the viewing stands. Tuesday and Thursday nights were where it was happening. Then, we would wait to see the write up in the Naperville Sun the next day. Volleyball meant so much to him that he gave back after his graduation to help younger players by teaching his skills to them. Chad was a proud father, and we know that Amber was his shining star. Chad will truly be missed.

“ My thoughts and prayers go out to the Wallace family. I hadn't seen Chad for almost 20 years, but I had often thought about him and wondered where his life had taken him after high school. It's sobering to know that my former volleyball teammate, classmate, and friend has left this mortal existence. Although he will be missed, I have faith Chad is in a better place, having returned home to his Heavenly Father, and that some day he will be reunited with his loved ones through the atonement of Jesus Christ.

“ Mr. and Mrs. Wallace:
My thoughts and prayers are with you and your family. Chad was a wonderful person and I was proud to know him even if it was for a few years in high school. He was a great friend and teammate. Best regards, Bryan

“ Danny (and family),
I am so sorry to hear of your loss. Sometimes words just don't seem adequate in conveying emotions, but I hope the expression of love from family and friends can help you bear this tragedy. We will shortly celebrate the divine mystery of our Lord, on Easter Sunday, with the reflection of the Pascal lamb and the promise of life everlasting. I pray that it brings you some comfort.
